

Silicon Valley Region

Check out the Silicon Valley region's Story Map! The Silicon Valley is home to 3 million people, which is expected to triple by 2040. Most Californians are aware that housing costs in the region are steep, but with the continued job growth in this part of the state, the problem is not going away. We can meet our housing needs while preserving our water resources if we tackle these two issues together. Visit the link to learn equitable, integrated approaches to solve both simultaneously!
<https://www.arcgis.com/apps/Cascade/index.html?appid=9b779e20b9ee4d0bb4aa42a015a83b0f>

Visit the Silicon Valley region's Story Map! The virtual tour outlines land-use planning and water resources. How can we protect our natural resources while ensuring the growing population has adequate water supply and housing? Learn the solutions here: <https://bit.ly/2iShl6N>
