

Strategic Partner Program

Connecting mission-aligned businesses, nonprofits, and foundations with local government leaders for resilience projects

CREATING COMMUNITY IMPACT

CivicWell works to advance sustainable community solutions throughout California and the nation. We form strategic partnerships with businesses, philanthropic organizations, nonprofits, and other groups to help create a strong pipeline of transformative projects.

Through our Strategic Partner Program, we connect our network of local government officials with mission-aligned leaders who can provide a range of support—from planning to feasibility to financial implementation.

By becoming a member of the Strategic Partner Program, you expand your impact through cutting-edge initiatives advancing sustainable, equitable, and resilient community solutions.

We strive to provide Strategic Partners with opportunities to build relationships with local elected officials and leaders, deepen your impact, and grow brand recognition in the clean and green economy.

Breaking ground at Pogo Park in Richmond, CA

"Becoming a Strategic Partner with CivicWell was an easy decision for us. No other organization has the depth of experience advocating for transformational policies and working with communities to enact real change. As a Strategic Partner, we get the opportunity to engage with and be thought partners to communities and policy makers that are looking for real solutions to big challenges."

EVENTS

We host many events each year including intimate in-person gatherings, practical webinars, regional meetings, and statewide conferences. There are many ways that Strategic Partners can be involved in these events including hosting a networking event, collaborating on a webinar, sponsoring a meal, and more. Read on for information about our high-profile conferences.

CivicWell Policymakers Conference

This intimate gathering brings together over 100 mayors, city council members, and county supervisors in an inspiring and collaborative environment. The event is designed to support local elected officials with tools and partnership opportunities to implement innovative solutions to our most pressing community challenges. Strategic Partners appreciate the in-depth conversations and lasting connections found here.

California Climate & Energy Forum

The CCEC Forum brings together several hundred local government staff, elected officials, and community organizations to collaborate in their efforts to advance fair and equitable climate change and energy practices. It is a great opportunity for Strategic Partners to engage with leaders from various sectors and levels of government.

[The CCEC Forum] is a well organized and extremely informative event. This was my second time attending and the workshops I attended and the connections I was able to make were priceless.

California Adaptation Forum

This biennial forum gathers community leaders, decision-makers, technical experts, and practitioners working to connect and learn about new policies and tools, project successes and lessons learned, and emerging opportunities to build climate resilience in the near-term and over the coming decades. A significant factor in its success is its appeal to leaders from a diverse range of sectors and disciplines. Nearly 700 people attended the 2023 event.

I find [the CivicWell Policymakers Conference] to be the best way to meet other electeds and learn how they solve common issues with my community. Over the years, some of my best initiatives have been driven by something I learned from the conference.
